"Want You to Come" Sale

BEGINS SATURDAY, JANUARY 9th, 1909

Yes, and we want you to bring your complete shopping list for future wants with you. This annual event just before inventory, is one of the greatest selling occasions in our yearly history. We take the wise loss now, don't wait and cut prices in sections from time to time, but plan ahead, for a general sweep in every department, with deep, in earnest Cut Prices that cause a tremendous outpouring of people at this sale each year. This time the inducements will be of greater interest, better values for the money than ever before, on account of the warm weather we have had. The cold weather is yet to come; we can't wait, give you the benefit now of the prices which would have been made later, if conditions had been normal. We will candidly say to our patrons, that at no sale of this kind in the past have the bargains been as pronounced as they will be at this sale. We sincerely ask you to come, look at the goods and get prices; if in your judgment they are not the lowest you have ever known don't buy. Don't stop at one department, either. This sale is all over the store, here, there, and everywhere. Be here at the opening hour; there will be surprises for the early

Good progress was made with relief work in southern Italy and Sicily, many soldiers and satiors being utiland hundreds of refugees being aken to Naples and other cities. The of the destruction of the Linds was unfounded. Two more earthquake shocks were felt at tireless in the work of aiding the suffering. American contributions were steadily and rapidly growing. Taormina, where there were many Americans, was uninjured. A violent earthshock, lasting three seconds, and during which the Strom- removal of his three children from the boli volcano began eruption, occurred on Stromboli island. The houses on the island were badly damaged and the populace fled to the streets in panic, but no one was hurt. Relief measures for the quake sufferers progressed well, Ambassador Griscom taking a prominent part. The Atlantic battleship fleet arrived at Suez and began passing through the canal in ored. Two vessels were sent ahead with supplies. The king and queen of Italy returned to Rome.

Congress unanimously voted $800,-000 for the relief of the Italian earthquake sufferers, in response to a nessage from President Roosevelt. Ambassador Griscom at Rome chartered a steamer for the work of aiding the survivors. He delivered to Count Taverna, head of the Italian Red Cross, $250,000 sent by the American Red Cross. The king proclaimed martial law in the devastated district, and Messina and Reggio were ordered evacuated.

MADE DAMAGING ADMISSIONS

Thornton Hains Has a Hard Day Un der Cross-Examination of State's Attorney.

Flushing, N. Y., Jan. 6.-New lights were thrown on the relationship of William E. Annis and Mrs. Claudia Hains in the trial of Thornton J. Hains Tuesday, when the defendant, under cross-examination, declared that several years ago, in Marblehead, Mass., he became aware that Annis and Mrs. Hains had stopped at the same hotel. Questioned by Justice Crane, Thornton Hains said he never spoke of the relations between Mrs. Hains and Annis to Capt. Hains, and had remained silent on the matter unservice agents. One-fourth the total til last spring. The fabric of the defense's case was badly torn when Thornton Hains, under sharp crossexamination by the state's attorney, made many damaging admissions. His jaunty manner quickly disappeared in the fire of the prosecutor's interrogations and several times he admitted that he could not remember the minor details of the same testimony he had given Monday. Once in plaintive voice was spent in the United States last

Hains said: "I can't remember. I never was so tired in my life. I have been five months in prison, and I'm worn out." Thornton Hains could not say when at the Waldorf on August 15 on his way to Bayside why he had not stepped across the street to Jesper son's office to find out where he was, instead of going to the yacht club with only an impression that he might be there. The defendant said he did not know whether Capt. Hains had time enough to purchase a revolver when he fell behind Weaver and himself on the walk up Broadway on August 15.

TELLS STORY DRAMATICALLY

Mrs. Beisel's Testimony Was Feature of Erb Trial Tuesday.

Media, Pa., Jan. 6.-The story of the slaying of Capt. J. Clayton Erb, as related by Mrs. Catherine Belsel, was the dramatic feature of the proceedings Tuesday in the trial of Mrs. Beisel and Mrs. Florence Erb, charged with the murder of the latter's husband. Mrs. Beisel, who confessed that she shot Erb, resumed the story of the killing when court opened and for several hours she passed through a trying ordeal. Sobbing violently, the witness stood upright in the witness box and in a voice choked with emotion exclaimed: "I shot him; I pulled the trigger, I don't know how many times, then all was dark." In almost every detail the witness corroborated the story of Mrs. Erb as to the alleged brutal treatment which she and her sister suffered at the hands of Capt. Erb.
